

Product Change Notice

Notice: #120215 Spec Change Announcement

Date: Dec 2 2015

To Our Valued Customer:

We appreciate your use of Picor products. Our commitment to customer satisfaction is demonstrated by our notification to you of the following change.

Description:

The products listed below are now at end of life (EOL). Picor wishes to advise you that due to a disruption in supply we have discontinued the product(s) listed. New orders will be accepted up to 6 months from today, but only while supplies last. Picor has secured defined and qualified equivalent replacement inductors from Cooper Industries which are available now for order. Picor has determined that customers can immediately transition to the replacement inductors without modifying their existing PCB board. Upon request a summary report with analysis will be provided. For those customers with new PCB designs we recommend following the layout guidelines provided in the datasheet for the replacement product.
